Why Conversational Intelligence® Matters

Conversational Intelligence® (C-IQ) gives us insights into how conversations activate our brain's trust and distrust networks. Learn how to understand and architect conversations, and how you and your team can shape the culture of your environment based on mutual trust.

Building Happy Teams

The average cost to replace an employee ranges from 16% to 213% of annual salary, depending on their position. If you can't afford to lose high performers, learn a few basic concepts to not only build happy teams, but to retain and attract talented individuals.

Ctrl-Shift: Why we need to change how we lead in Information Technology

Technology professionals are often focused on developing solutions at the expense of developing themselves and their teams. Learn why it's important to reduce burnout and shift the balance from task- to relationship-oriented leadership.

Supporting Women in STEM - from the Inside

Turnover rates among women in the tech industry are increasing due to salary gaps and lack of promotion opportunities, particularly at senior and executive levels. While Diversity and Inclusion Programs help, there is still much work to be done to close the gender gap. Learn why, who, and how in this interactive session.

Helicopters & Humvees®

In many ways, the helicopter view is that of upper management and the Humvee is the view from which middle management and team members operate. Whatever your view is at the moment, learn why it's important to not lose sight of the other perspective.
